editorial_ Black & Withe

My name is Natalia Koinova and I am photographer from Saint-Petersburg, Russia. I started making my first pictures in 2009, learned art photography, tried various directions and finally found what I love the most. Fashion photography is my real passion. I studied fashion photography in Milano, my pictures took part in exhibition in Cologne and one of the pictures, made for young russian designer, was exposed at Palazzo Morando Costume Museum in Milan this summer.

I admire the beauty of the models and trying combining it with works of the designers, giving the most of my vision to the whole picture. I like making my personal shootings expressing my current mood through the lenses of the camera. I really hope you enjoy my next shooting that is called : "Black and white" that was inspired by the idea of combining opposite images of the same model.

my first name is Shahaf and I was born in Israel. I studied art for four years in the "Midrasha" school of art and education. My major was photography and painting, and when i didn't have time to paint, i started to do artistic makeup on my photography models. My biggest inspiration in my photography is from paintings and art. I love when the colors collides. After art school i studied "Ashtanga" yoga for two years, and it brought another point of view for my photography that helped me to Guide my models in posing.

As a fashion photographer, I worked with many professional models, but I wanted my own team, so I founded a little agency with 4 models that I chose to represent. This select group is where I feel I can invest myself professionally with a personal touch within the framework of an amiable team atmosphere. Efrat, Dana, Coral and Rony, they are my team and photography Muses.

THE SHOPPING NIGHT BARCELONA

Barcelona vivía la más exclusiva experiencia de Shopping y lifestyle, el pasado jueves 4 de diciembre. Se vivió una noche cargada, del glamour de la época dorada del cine.

Nombres de los grandes actores de Hollywood como Audrey Hepburn, Marilyn Monroe, Elizabeth Taylor, Grace Kelly... descendían desde el estrellato hasta la mítica avenida barcelonesa, Passeig de Gracia. Toda la avenida se convertía en un cine al aire libre, con proyecciones de películas mudas en las fachadas de los establecimientos participantes, espectáculos itinerantes, desfiles llenos de moda y glamour, e incluso una recreación de una entrega de premios celebrado en el Palau Robert.

El Palau Robert se vistió de gala para acoger la entrega de los "1st TSNB Golden Awards", con el que se distingue entre otros, el premio a la mejor tienda. Los agraciados en recoger este premio han sido Santa Eulalia, cuyo interior albergaba una impresionante selección de vestidos de Marilyn Monroe.

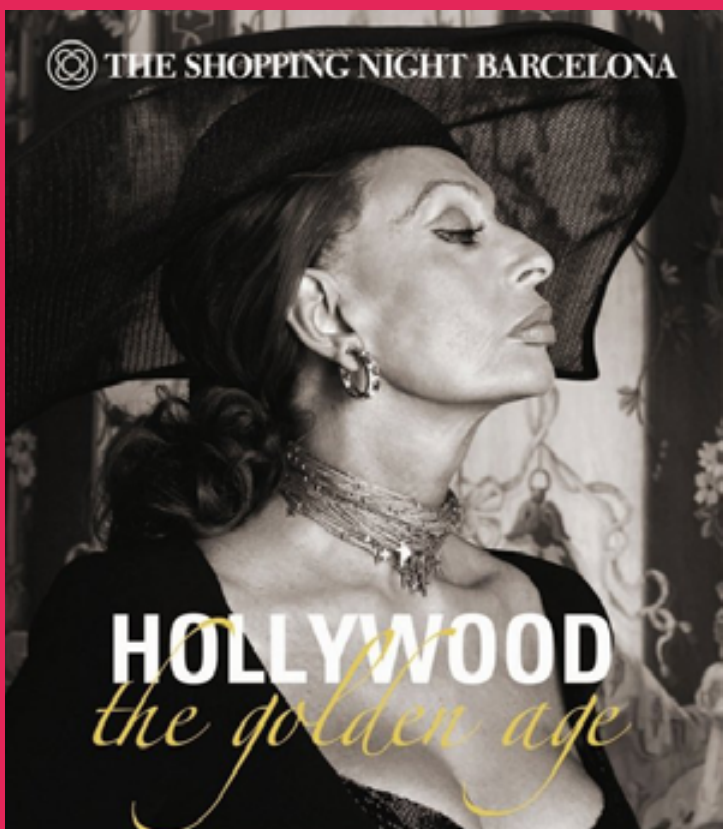

La imagen de esta edición de The Shopping Night Barcelona es la “diva” Sophia Loren, un icono viviente del cine de los años dorados de Hollywood.

El fotógrafo de la imagen seleccionada es Brian Aris, del que se exhibe su primera exposición fotográfica en España. Para todos aquellos interesados en conocer su obra de primera mano, tienen la oportunidad de disfrutarla en la sala de exposiciones del Real Círculo Artístico de Barcelona hasta el 14 de diciembre.

THE SHOPPING
NIGHT
BARCELONA

FilmoTeca
de Catalunya

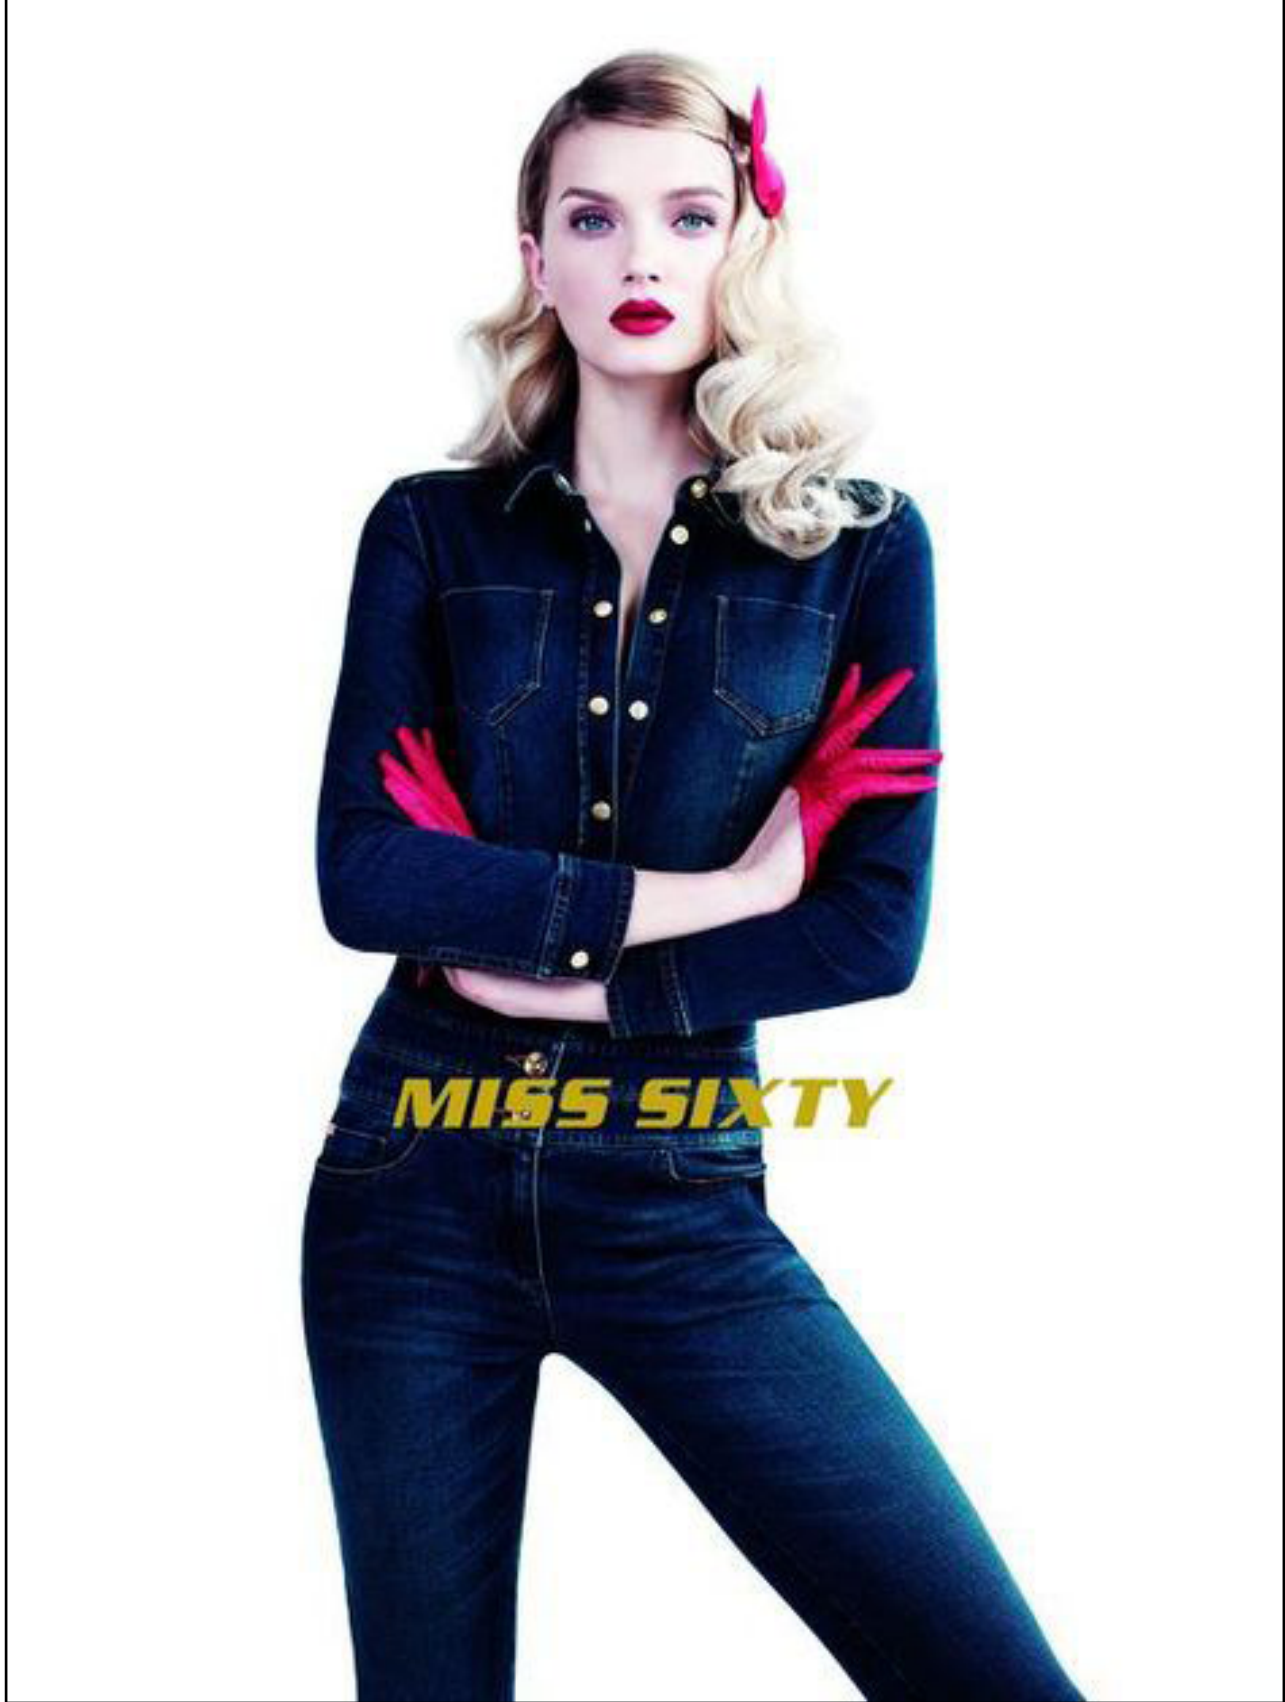

Algunas de las grandes atracciones en la calle fueron el atelier de Anna de Codorniu, un espacio donde moda y cava se dan la mano. En el espacio CK One Color podías sentirte como una estrella disfrutando de un maquillaje de cine. Chloe nos invito a embarcarnos en un viaje al mundo de los sueños con sus fragancias. Europa FM se encargó de poner la nota musical en la calle, donde decenas de jóvenes bailaban bajo la noche barcelonesa.

Las firmas participantes no se quedaron atrás y en cada establecimiento podías disfrutar de una fiesta temática cargada de sorpresas y personalidad: Aristocrazy, Furla, Liu Jo, Doble Agent, & Other Stories, Stradivarius...

En definitiva, una noche cargada de Shopping, cocktails, regalos, música en vivo y sobre todo mucho cine y glamour.

Eyeliners

¿Que dice tu mirada sobre ti?

Ojos de ensueño, guiños a los años 60 y un toque seductor es lo que aporta el eyeliner esta temporada. Los grandes mitos del cine siempre han echado mano de este cosmético para potenciar sus rasgos y enmarcar los ojos al más puro estilo de Hollywood.

Encontrar el tipo de eyeliner que se adapte a ti y a tu nivel de maquilladora puede ser complicado, pero por ello el mercado de la cosmética se alía contigo ofreciéndote texturas y formatos para que resulte más fácil su aplicación: lápiz, crema, líquido, khol... El buen pulso es fundamental para que la curvatura de tu párpado quede enmarcada en el negro más felino.

Un rasgo característico que iconos como Amy Winehouse, siempre extremista, o Lana del Rey han aprovechado para hacerlo único. Pero este cosmético ya se utilizaba en el antiguo Egipto. Pocas cosas están inventadas ya... En los años 20 se comenzó a utilizar como símbolo de la feminidad para aportar un rasgo sexy y seductor. Desde la mirada de Gilda hasta la alegría "pixie" de Twiggy, pasando por la dulzura de Brigitte Bardot, las actrices también han sabido sacar partido del eyeliner.

¿Alguien duda todavía del poder de este cosmético? Sólo hay que atreverse a mirar con ojos de gata.

El eyeliner es la prueba de cómo una fina línea puede dar como resultado una dramática transformación.

THREAD & INK MALTA

Thread & ink Malta is a workshop studio, in the small island of the Mediterranean, dedicated to creating handmade designs on any material but always related to books, paper, ink and Malta.

Thread & ink also use recycling objects and materials for their designs with the aim of having good products whilst keeping respect for the ecosystem. This includes: bookbinding, artists' books, fine printing & typography, papermaking, calligraphy, book illustration including wood engraving, paper decorating, marbling, and box making.

Germán Hernández Pérez (Degree; B.A in Restoration and Conservation and Degree training cycle Graphic Design and Publicity.) has been conserving and restoring books, artefacts on paper and paintings for over three years in Malta and the Studio has vast experience in saving books, paper, paintings and sculpture of every age, shape and form, in various states of damage and returning them to our clients in a good, repaired condition.

Now the workshop have the projection of promote art, design, interior design and Malta in the national and international level.

THREAD
INK MALTA

The majority of work done in the studio involves direct intervention where they carry out an initial assessment of an item to decide an appropriate method of repair.

With archives this might involve lining with spider tissue, local repairs, infilling missing areas with toned repairs, and carrying out binding work that keeps as much of the original as possible with the aim of stabilising its condition and retarding further deterioration.

Each area of work involves an initial assessment of the condition and an agreement with the client as to how far they should proceed.

This relates to a number of areas within the studio and where they offer a range of services. Through the initial consultancy service they offer, condition surveys, cost analysis and examination of the archive environment to give an overview of how to improve the preservation of the archives, books, documents or pictures.

They can give recommendations on storage and display, sometimes recommending the making of facsimiles as an alternative to displaying the original, as happened with All Hallows by the Tower, making two facsimile volumes for their display, as the cabinets were not environmentally controlled and would have been harmful to the originals.

The studio can also organise book refurbishing and archive cleaning programmes where they address the storage methods and boxing of cleaned books and documents.

Restoration is an extension of conservation in that they carry out the same repair work but spend more time on disguising as much as possible the repair work to any given item. More time is spent in toning papers exactly and retouching. This is more common with the lining and retouching of posters, prints, drawings, and watercolours for collectors or dealers.

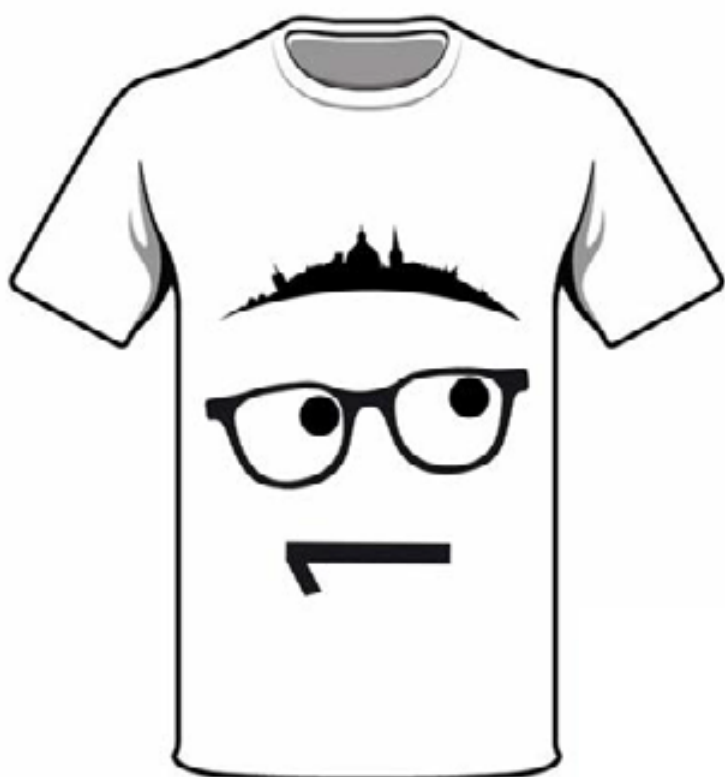

Design of products with recycled material (collection V.18). Old train of Valletta (book).

Photo of the train passing through the tunnels underneath the main entrance of Valletta. The train station was situated there. 1890.
